RESPONSIBILITIES OF PARENTS

The book of Deuteronomy tells us in chapter 4 that parents have the primary responsibility for the education of their children. The school, the church, and the civic community support, enhance, and complement this role. Any successful educational program depends upon the cooperation and involvement of the parents with the school. Agreement to enroll your child(ren) in Blessed Trinity School carries certain parental responsibilities.

It is expected that parents will:

- Be active in the faith development of their child(ren) and worship at Mass on weekends.
- Contribute to the support of the parish by participating in the Stewardship Way of Life.
- Instill in each child positive values and attitudes.
- Be familiar with and support school and class regulations and policies.
- Support the educational programs offered at Blessed Trinity School by careful and conscientious supervision of school assignments.
- Support the standard of conduct recommended by Blessed Trinity School at all times.
- Attend parent/teacher conferences and carry out teacher recommendations made at conferences.
- Fulfill all contractual obligations, especially the Extended Care Program and any other payments and fees on time.
- Support school and parish related functions.
- Provide a willingness to volunteer their services to help build a strong school community by giving of themselves, their time, and talent.
- Attend parent meetings and other meetings that have to do with the student's educational or religious growth.
- Take an active part in all school fundraising activities.
- Be responsible for all damage and loss of school property caused by the student.
- Follow the approved chain of command whenever a problem arises in the classroom. Discuss the matter with teacher, then the principal, then the pastor, and finally the superintendent.

I have received the 2009-2010 Blessed Trinity School/Parent Handbook and I understand and agree to abide by the policies as set forth therein.
